PROSPECTUS.

The time has come to issue the Annual Prospectus of the Dailly Onto Statisman. This Journal was established to expound and enforce the great ideas of Government thought and practiced by Thomas Jaffales son and Andrew Jagress, which gave extent of territory to the Union, world-wide renown to these States, and unexampled prosperity and happiness to the American people. Never before in the history of the Government, were the exposition and the enforcement of these ideas so necessary as now. Alone through their adoption and faithful practice by the Administration, can the Union be restored, and peace and wide-spread happiness be brought again to our Country, now torn and mangled and desoiated by a gigantic Civil War.

A partial change in the Editorship and Proprietorship of The Statesman has taken place. Lewis Baken has sold his entire interest in the Establishment, and retires from the position that was assigned him on the Paper—E. B. Eshelman having bought that interest and an additional interest. Mr. Eshelman has been for mearly twelve yours the Editor of the Chillipsehe.
